FINE PROGRAM IS GIVEN AT W. C. T. U. CONFERENCE

Prohibition Is Here to Stay, Says World's Only
Federal Agent.

The W. C. T. U. conference held at the Antioch Methodist church Friday, May 4, was attended by representatives from Lake Forest, Waukegan, Gurnee and Libertyville. Local temperance workers considered it a great privilege to entertain a gathering of this kind, and that the conference was pronounced a success is very pleasing to them.

Mrs. Mabel Courson, president of Lake County W. C. T. U., gave a very interesting illustration of putting resolutions into action which would mean being thoroughly informed and know the proper use of the ballot.

A solo by Mrs. E. E. Thomas, "My Task" was very nicely rendered.

Law breaking before and after Prohibition by Col. A. V. Smith revealed the fact that the law breakers have always existed, murders have been committed and during the regime of the old saloon the laws were transgressed and not enforced. They sold to minors, to down-and-outs and to the heads of destitute families. And today conditions are better than before the 18th Amendment became a law. When an official takes the oath of office to support the 18th Amendment he should feel it as great a responsibility to enforce that law as he would any law apart from the 18th Amendment.

Mrs. R. E. Thomas, Economics of Prohibition showed prosperity existing in this way: where distilleries stood on the same sites, bank buildings have been erected, people have been able to have better houses and are able to give their children better education. On the whole prohibition is economy.

Mrs. C. P. Tibbetta gave a very interesting talk on the subject of "Hold Fast and Go Forward."

Rev. Krahel gave actual happenings that took place during his pastorate of methods used to evade the law.

Mrs. Anna M. Crook the only woman Federal Prohibition agent in the world, gave a great many statistics showing the value of the 18th Amendment. "It is here and here to stay," she said.

A duet entitled, "In The Garden" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Tarnow and Mrs. Gaston.

FRIENDLY PLANET TO VISIT US SOON

To Come Within 13,000,000
Miles of Earth.

San Francisco.—Astronomers of the University of California are making preparations already for the approach of the planetoid Eros, scheduled to come nearer the earth in 1930 than it ever has been. Eros will be 13,500,000 miles away, and in such a position as to enable the scientists to make good observations.

Much importance is attached to the event because Eros will be in a good position to carry out the process of checking the distance of the earth from the sun, says H. H. Tucker, astronomer emeritus. Preliminary studies have been carried out by Professor Tucker at Mount Hamilton, in which he has determined the position of 402 stars which will form a background for Eros in 1930.

In making these determinations, Tucker spent 77 nights at Lick observatory, during which he made 2,100 observations. The period, which is just passed, constitutes one of the best observing seasons, from the standpoint of atmospheric conditions, recorded at Lick observatory in 80 years.

The positions of the fixed stars appearing in the same portion of the sky as will Eros although much further away, will aid in determination of the distance of Eros from the earth. The calculations will be made both in terms of miles and in terms of a common astronomical unit, which is fixed as the greatest diameter of the ellipse that the earth describes about the sun once a year.

Eros' move will be its first close approach since its discovery in 1898.

The girls, Rae Costello and Lorraine Williams, gave Chicago addresses, while the man gave his name as John Hansen, Waukegan. They were fined $25 and costs each.

Turks Greet Their First Locomotive With Kisses

Amassia, Turkey.—In their glee over the arrival of the first train here on the new Turkish-built Samoun-Sivas railroad, scores of peasants rushed toward the approaching flower-decked, flag-draped engine, scrambling up the fender and covered the steaming locomotive with kisses.

While lips loudly but reverently smacked the dusty iron, peasant women standing by shouted vivas for Ismet Pasha, Turkey's prime minister and sponsor of the republic's vast railroad program.

As this region is rich in fruits, especially apples, and in wheat, Turkey as a whole as well as the locality will benefit greatly by the new transportation facilities.

"Sailor Maids" Are Coming Friday Eve.

The "Sailor Maids" are already entertaining you Friday, May 11, and the advance sale of tickets indicates that this high school production will rival other operas in attendance.

"Sailor Maids" has more of a plot than is usually found in operettas. The plot centers around a mistaken identity in which friendship are formed which were not intended by the ambitious fathers, and which are to become permanent. Frances Marie is unable to distinguish between two young men. Will you be able to?

The village engineer also furnished an estimate on the cost of the proposed new street to connect Park avenue with Depot street, the figures being for the cost of grading and improving only and did not include the cost of property that must be purchased before the project can become a reality. No action was taken by the board of local improvements.

The $12,000 bond issue for the construction of a new water system in the village of Lake Villa was defeated at an election held Thursday. The vote was close, those opposed to the project winning out by five votes. The final count was 87 against and 82 for the improvement. The contest over the issue has been a heated one ever since the village board decided to take up the proposed work.

It is understood that the persons upholding the improvement have asked for another election, charging that the opposition had discouraged all residents of the village from voting who did not own property. It is claimed that many votes in favor of the bond issue were lost through the failure of persons not property owners to vote.

EARLY VEGETABLES

Now that the spring is here, we are looking forward to more of the green foods and crisp, fresh vegetables from our gardens; these will take the place to some extent of the fresh fruits such as oranges and grapefruit which have been plentiful during the winter. There are always apples, late into the spring, and such dried fruits as prunes, apricots, dates and figs which may be added to the menu occasionally. Fresh rhubarb is excellent for a spring fruit as well as a tonic. Use it freely as soon as the first shoots appear.

APRICOT SHORTCAKE

Soak half a pound of dried apricots in water to cover in a double boiler till tender. If the fruit is large cut into pieces. Make six slices of very soft French toast, using a pint of milk, an egg and a pinch of salt. Brown the slices delicately on both sides, in butter. Put together in sandwich or shortcake style with the stewed fruit.

Fried Apple Sandwiches

Slice brown bread very thin and spread with softened butter. Sauté one-quarter inch slices of apple unpeeled, in butter, arrange them on the rounds of buttered bread, and sprinkle lightly with sugar and set into the oven for a few moments. Just before serving drop a ball of cream cheese in the center of each apple ring and serve at once.

East Indian Sandwiches

Cut chicken or turkey (left over) into small pieces, add the same quantity of cooked ham. Make a cupful of rich white sauce, add a teaspoonful of curry powder mixed with a little cold milk, add the chicken with a tablespoonful of grated onion. Simmer for a few minutes, remove from the heat, season well and add a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Trim slices of bread or crusts, butter lightly and sauté until a delicate brown. Put together with the hot chicken mixture. Serve garnished with sprigs of watercress or sliced tomatoes.

Corn Puffs

Put one can of corn through the meat chopper—or better use the kernels. To one pint add the beaten yolks of two eggs, one cupful of cracker crumbs, one tablespoonful of melted butter, one teaspoonful of salt, a dash of sugar, and finally the well-beaten whites of the eggs. Add one-fourth cupful of rich milk, unless the corn is very moist. Bake by spoonful on a well greased griddle.

Chicken Scramble

To one solid cupful of chopped chicken from a stew or roast add one cupful of rich chicken stock made by simmering the bones in enough water to cover. Add a little chopped onion, such seasonings as are needed, and four tablespoons of corn meal, adding any left over gravy and bits of stuffing. Cook well, pour into mold and when cold cut into slices and fry; serve hot.

Spiced Tongue in Tomato Sauce

Get a tongue pickled at butcher's and boil until tender. Remove outer skin and let meat get cold. Slice meat and place in covered pan with one cup tomato sauce poured over it. If desired you may add a cup and a half of mixed vegetables such as peas, mushrooms and sliced green peppers. After sauce has been added to meat, roast for about one-half hour and serve. — Mrs. Nellie Polski, Bloomington.

To cook string beans deliciously, shred them finely and give them a short quick cooking in a comparative small amount lightly salted water. Remove the tips, ends, and strings and cut the beans lengthwise into long thin shreds, with a pair of scissors.

VOGUE FOR THE ENSEMBLE
INVADES THE JUVENILE REALM

WELL, "look who's here"—little daughter dressed up in an ensemble which is about as "fizzy" as one could hope to see on cunning Miss Seventy-Ten or thereabout. The ensemble vogue is, this season, very important in the juvenile realm. And why shouldn't it be? It is practical for mother and big sister—and it is, very—why should not the rule work both ways, for old and young? And it does.

The attractive ensemble in this picture is a gray cashmere (gray is fashionable for everybody this season) suspender dress with blouse and coat lining, also alternate plaits in the skirt of red, blue and white print silk. The trimming on the perky little hat is of the identical silk as enters into the compose of the frock.

It is really amusing how little folks are following in the lead of the grown-up mode. There's this idea of the matching hat, for instance. Advance showings place special stress on hats which are either made of or trimmed with the identical silk print of the blouse, hat or scarf as the case may be.

There is no doubt but what the ensemble mode is very practical for children. Wee folks are so national for them it is first too warm then too cold or the reverse. That is why a little coat to match the dress will prove not only a joy but a source of protection and comfort to whimsical little girls who will be taking keen delight in whisking their matching wraps "off again, on again" in a jiffy.

Mothers, too, will find the ensemble idea much to their liking when it comes to making clothes for the little folks. A remnant of this kind of material and a remnant of that, combined will develop into a smart ensemble.

Fancy Coats

The fancy coat, of embroidered kasha or other lightweight woollens, will have a big vogue this year, styles indicate. A straightline rose-hedge one, embroidered in coin dots in tans, rose and gold, is very decorative.

Lace Frocks

Lace frocks are imperative in the spring wardrobe. Warm colors, particularly deep pinks and purples, are very good. They usually have light foundations.

Basket-Weave Mohair

A traveling suit of frock and three-quarters coat is fashioned of lovely soft gray mohair, in a new basket weave, with flat crepe in blue for handings.

Short Silk Jackets Worn

A short jacket of plain taffeta or faille is this season's substitute for the ensemble coat. Sometimes there is a second long coat for wear over the silk jacket which is designed to formalize the sleeveless dress.

A new idea in sports jewelry is the wide leather bracelet. These are studded with metal knobs or are trimmed variously with brass medallions. Some of the bracelets have hand held edges.

A new choker necklace is fashioned of tiny jeweled flowers alternating with square cut crystals. Another choker employs the silver leaf motif combined with crystals.

New French lingerie includes a typically feminine pajama set of flesh colored crepe de chine with lacustrations of rich cream-colored lace lavishly on jacket and trousers.

So pronounced is the vogue for polka dots that even the new hand bags are dotted. A pretty pouch bag of coin dot silk repeats the design in the handle by the use of four large metal balls.

Rubberized velveteen fashions an interesting raincoat which is patterned in reptilian effect on a gray background. It is accompanied by a cloth hat of self material.

Black crepe satin makes a delightful evening frock with a godet skirt dipping at the back and a long V reaching nearly to the back of the bodice, from the point of which hangs a big bow of the satin with ends almost to the ankles. A black skirt and floating draperies from the back of the shoulders.

Lace, both in the heavier varieties and in fine Chantilly, combined with chiffon or georgette, is the favorite material for the season's black evening frock. Net with chenille is also combined with satin or taffeta, and both satin and taffeta are popular materials for the plain, untrimmed frock.

Linoleum, to give good service, should be laid over a smooth floor in such a way that it does not buckle, and it should be cleaned with a damp cloth wrung out of soda made with mild soap. Alkali washing powders, strong soap, or too much water, will ruin even the best linoleum.

GAS NOW CHIEF FUEL FOR COOKS

During 1927 a country-wide survey, covering 8,000,000 homes and 2,223 communities, showed that 75 per cent of all families in communities of 5,000 population or more have gas service.

The principal use to which gas is put in the home is shown by the fact that 75 per cent of all families living in places of 100,000 or more use gas ranges, and in the communities from 5,000 to 10,000, population, 47.9 per cent have ranges.

John William Hartman was born at Pleasant Ridge, Illinois, February 14, 1907, and died May 1, 1928, at the age of 21 years. He attended school at Collinsville and three years ago came to Wilmot to make his home with his sister, Mrs. J. Hasselman. At the time of his death the deceased was in the employ of Frank Schramm and was killed while driving a gravel truck which in some unexplained manner left the road and overturned, crushing Mr. Hartman. The accident occurred on the Wilmot-Trevor road in front of Mrs. Fred Matten's home. Fellow members of the Wilmot Ball club of which the deceased was pitcher acted as bearers: Eugene Frank, Floyd Pacey, John Samsenman, Don Herrick, Norman Richards and Lyle McDougall. The young man is survived by his mother, Mrs. Johanna Hartman, two sisters, Mrs. John Hasselman, Mrs. W. Tureck and four brothers—William, Hugo, Louis and Arthur.

Next Sunday the Johnson team will play Wilmot at the Wilmot park and the Sunday following the locals journey to Ringwood for a return game. The Wilmot players are improving and practice every Tuesday at the park. Their efforts are deserving of good crowds at all their games.

ISSUES WARNING TO DAIRY FARMERS

A warning to Illinois farmers to guard against stocking poor animals during the wave of dairy cow buying now sweeping the state, has been sounded by C. S. Rhodes, dairy extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Conditions have been favorable for dairying during the past few years, and as a result farmers throughout southern Illinois and the great milk farming section are rapidly developing this phase of the business, he reported. Many poor cows are finding their way into the large shipments being made into the state, he said, as a result of this big demand.

"Thar She Blows" Is Scientifically Correct

Washington.—The whaler's old cry, "Thar she blows!" was a much more scientifically accurate statement than he suspected.

Blowing—not "spouting"—is what the whale actually does, producing on a rather grand scale the same effect the youngster achieves when he blows moist air from his lungs on a frosty morning, pretending that it is smoke.

When the air is cold enough to condense the vapor in the whale's breath as it comes to the surface, the "spout" rises like a geyser, which is the basis for the old popular belief that the creature was exhaling water taken in through the mouth. Remington Kellogg, research associate of the Carnegie Institution of Washington has pointed out, however, that this is impossible, since the whale's nasal passage connects directly with the windpipe and does not, as in other animals, open into the throat.

Protect Your Investment in Your Model T Ford

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

More than eight million Model T Fords are still in active service, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer.

So that you may get the greatest use over the longest period of time at the lowest cost, we suggest that you take your Model T Ford to the nearest Ford dealer and have him give you an estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure may enable you to maintain or increase the value of the car and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

No matter where you live you can get these Ford parts at the same low prices as formerly and know they are made in the same way and of the same materials as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Labor cost is reasonable and a standard rate is charged for each operation so that you may know in advance exactly how much the complete job will cost.

England's Richest Woman Has Her Home at Sea

Rough—Complete separation from the world at last has been achieved by England's wealthiest woman.

On her yacht Liberty, moored in a wide reach of the Seine not far from here, Lady Houston, widow of the late millionaire shipowner, Sir Robert Houston, rests in luxurious solitude. Even her friends can't reach her. For that she is sorry. But, she says, she was driven to it.

Nearly two years ago her husband died leaving her a fortune of $35,000,000. She herself undertook the administration of the huge estate. But so many investment brokers and financiers descended upon her that she died in fright. From a cabin in her 1,600-ton yacht she directs her affairs. But none approaches her, and only the most important mail is delivered to her.

The real reason—so friends say—for her strange seclusion is not her desire to escape from routine business affairs. Rather it is to get away from England, where, she suspects, her husband died of what she calls "sinister influences."

What they are she will not divulge. His tombstone tells enough, she said, on it she had inscribed: "To my husband, Sir Robert Houston, who died most mysteriously."

Mexico Adopts Modified Daylight-Saving System

Mexico City.—A trivial matter, which has caused nation-wide interest in Mexico, because of the number of persons it affects, has been settled, definitely and officially, with the allotment of two official times—one for summer and the other for winter—corresponding to the daylight-saving system which is used in the United States.

Controversies continually were waged last year in various sections of the country, some using the astronomical time, the others relying on the "civil" time, with the result that much inconvenience was caused and business hampered. Government intervention was finally asked.

The National Chamber of Commerce, after writing to the secretariat of agriculture, finally provided and accepted the solution—a compromise, which says there shall be two times, both officially and both nationally recognized. One is to be called "summer" and the other "winter" time, and by this conflicts and misunderstandings will be avoided.

Railroads and public utilities in general will observe the new system to avoid confusion.

GERMANS DEVELOP HUGE FLYING BOAT

Craft Will Have Speed of 165 Miles an Hour.

New York.—Germany has developed an amazing flying boat with 10 motors and wings with a spread of 282 feet that is expected to make regular 24-hour transatlantic flights. The machine weighs 250,000 pounds—128 tons. It will be able to carry 165 persons and 12,000 pounds of freight. Its maximum speed will be 165 miles an hour.

These details were heard from Fritz Doering, chief pilot and personal representative of the Rumpier Airplane works in Berlin, and Counsel Louis J. Skulitzero, who have arrived here to complete negotiations with a group of American business men from New York, Chicago and San Francisco for formation of a company to finance the enterprise.

Dr. E. Rumpier, head of the organization bearing his name, is one of the leading plane builders in Europe. He has built airplanes since 1908 and has worked on the problem of trans-oceanic flights since the end of the war. Doctor Rumpier has invented the new "multi-motored" flying boat.

The basic idea behind this machine, Doering explained, is decentralization of weight and all motion units. Use of a large number of motors assures greater safety, he said. Six motors would be sufficient to lift the plane and its cargo from the ground, and four motors would be enough to sustain flight. Therefore, he said, motor trouble is likely to be forgotten, as there always would be sufficient reserve motors.

These boats will cover the distance from Europe to the United States in 24 hours, the sponsors say. It is planned to make nonstop flights which will pass over the Azores on the way to America, and over Newfoundland on the way to Europe.

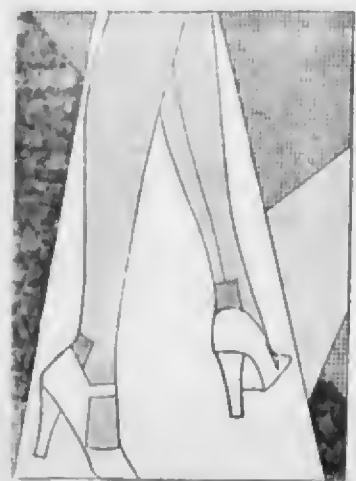

Doering, one of Germany's flying men during the war, was the first to import American motors to Germany.

Doctor Skulitzero, who has been active in extending the market for American goods, represents several great American companies in Europe.

COLORFUL FAILLE SILK AND SATIN HATS SMART FOR IMMEDIATE WEAR

YES, there is no lack of interest in hats for immediate wear, and as for silks there is a whole list of them looked for the future, which includes shawl, bakou, yodda, pallalson, ballhanti, leghorn, tuscan and any number of other exotic types. These do not, however, cover the entire millinery situation. There are, for instance, the new flower toques and other snug hats all of flowers, which will be accompanied with a shoulder bouquet to match. Every woman will yield sooner or later to their temptation.

But what of the present moment? Well, have you taken note of the charming colorful little hats of faille silk or ribbon, which are the very thing to "bridge over" from the winter chapeau to the summery straw or flower bonnet?

There is that something about these dainty silk hats which expresses the "sweetly feminine" in terms of utmost refinement. They always bespeak a "well dressed" appearance. Perhaps it is their coloring which is so alluringly feminine.

The most striking faille hats are so because of their supreme simplicity.

ISSUES WARNING TO DAIRY FARMERS

A warning to Illinois farmers to guard against stocking poor animals during the wave of dairy cow buying now sweeping the state, has been sounded by C. S. Rhodes, dairy extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Conditions have been favorable for dairying during the past few years, and as a result farmers throughout southern Illinois and the great mixed farming section are rapidly developing this phase of the business, he reported. Many poor cows are finding their way into the large shipments being made into the state, he said, as a result of this big demand.

Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., Sends First Message From Liberia To Rubber Company's Own Station In Akron—Daily Reports On Rubber Growth To Follow

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., now in the African jungles, today broadcasted the first message sent from the special radio station recently erected on the Firestone rubber plantation in the interior of Liberia, on the West Coast of Africa. The message was received at a similar station on the roof of the Firestone factories at Akron, Ohio.

This marks a new era of communication with the interior of inaccessible countries. Heretofore, the method used was to send foot messengers through jungle trails, taking days to get in touch with the outside world. Broadcasting by radio direct from one continent to another thus gives the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. a great advantage in developing its million acres of rubber lands that were secured from the Liberian government. Although these properties are located over 5,000 miles from the Firestone headquarters at Akron, Ohio, it will now be possible to send reports every day by radio from the Liberian plantations to Akron.

100,000 Acres Laid Out

Mr. Firestone, Jr., has been in Liberia since early January. In his first report by radio today, he said that the Liberian government officials were enthusiastically co-operating with Firestone in the company's great undertaking to make Liberia one of the important rubber-growing countries of the world. Mr. Firestone said that during the first year two 50,000-acre plantations had been laid out, one on the Du river and the other 150 miles south of the Du on the Cavalla river.

Firestone engineers in the same time had constructed over 75 miles of roads and had built and established headquarters on the two plantations, with housing facilities for the resident staffs of 118 Americans. Power plants for the development of electric power, light and refrigeration had been built, as well as hospitals and trade stores for the benefit of the Americans and also to supply the needs of the 15,000 natives who are employed in clearing the jungles and planting rubber trees.

1,500,000 Trees Planted

During the past year, according to Mr. Firestone's first radio report, over 1,500,000 rubber trees have been planted on a total of over 15,000 acres of cleared jungle lands. This is a record in rubber plantation work. It is the largest number of trees set out and areas planted by any single company in the same length of time. And Mr. Firestone stated that the rate of progress in clearing land and planting rubber trees is being constantly increased.

Mr. Firestone reported that the steamship sent over for service had been placed in commission along the Liberian coast and is now linking up the Firestone plantations and the coast towns of Liberia. He expressed the hope that Firestone will soon have its own vessels operating directly between New York and Liberia, making the Atlantic passage in less than two weeks. When this is done, it will not only give Firestone an advantage of from two to five weeks in time as compared with other rubber-growing countries, but will also greatly reduce the cost of transportation.

Teach Natives Trades

Great progress in the development of the Firestone trade schools was also reported. Mr. Firestone said that the natives were very anxious to learn under the instruction of the Firestone technical staff. The dark-skinned Liberians are being taught to be carpenters, blacksmiths, plumbers, electricians, automobile mechanics, sanitary engineers, soil experts and foresters. Now that the Liberians, for the first time in the history of the country, have a system of good roads, they are suddenly becoming enthusiastic about motor transportation, and they all want to ride in automobiles, trucks or tractors. As a result, Monrovia, the capital of Liberia, has established a traffic squad to police the traffic on its principal streets. When the Firestone company went into Liberia, there were no roads in the country, and only one automobile. This was owned by the President of Liberia, who had very little occasion to use it because of the absence of good roads.

When Mr. Firestone arrived at the Du river plantation, he was greeted as the "Great White Chief" by many thousands of Firestone native employees who had erected a great arch of leaves and ferns at the entrance of the property and lined the road on both sides as he drove through eleven miles of the plantation to headquarters.

$5,000,000 Loan to Liberia

Mr. Harvey S. Firestone, Sr., has successfully arranged a $5,000,000 loan in America for the Liberian government. This places Liberia on a firm financial basis, and permits the development of roads, schools and public buildings. The 118 Americans comprising the Firestone technical staff are helping to organize the 2,000,000 or more native Liberians and give them remunerative employment which had not been hitherto available in their own country. The natives are proving very adaptable and willing to work in an organized way. This has made possible the clearing and planting of such a large acreage during the past year and has undoubtedly had a very appreciable effect in the recent reduction in the price of crude rubber.

European newspapers have carried many articles deriding Firestone for going into Africa to plant rubber. They claimed the soil was poor for rubber growing and that the natives would not work. The British government now realizes that Firestone's Liberian enterprise is anything but a folly. It is conceded by everybody that Firestone has made the greatest rubber development ever accomplished by any single company in the same length of time. Liberia confronts the British and Dutch rubber growers as an increasingly important competitor. And now the British Parliament is seriously considering the question of abandoning or at least modifying the rubber restriction policy.

When Premier Baldwin brought up the question of modifying rubber restriction in the British Parliament, rubber was selling around 42 cents a pound. Within a few weeks it dropped about 18 cents a pound. Since a variation of 1 cent a pound means a difference of over $8,000,000 a year to American rubber buyers, the decline from 42 to 24 cents a pound will mean a saving of $160,000,000 a year to America if the present price is maintained.

Plans to Keep Tower of Pisa From Toppling Over

Paris.—Dr. Edouard Imbeaux, former professor at the government engineering school and corresponding member of the Academy of Sciences, has a plan to keep the famous "Leaning Tower of Pisa" from toppling over, as it seems certain to do if its foundations continue to sag as they have done for 600 years.

Doctor Imbeaux goes on the assumption that the sagging is caused by the flow of subterranean streams flowing toward the sea and preventing the silt and clay which form the foundations from hardening sufficiently to uphold the heavy structure. He proposes to freeze a broad band all around the bottom of the tower to a depth of 20 or 30 feet and then pour cement between that band and the walls of the tower.

Completed in the year 1350 the tower, which is 190 feet high, is now almost five feet out of plumb, the southern side sinking on an average one millimeter a year. Unless something is done to stop it there will inevitably come a day when the equilibrium of the tower will be disturbed to such an extent that it can no longer remain erect.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"ADAM AND FALLER MAN" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 6.

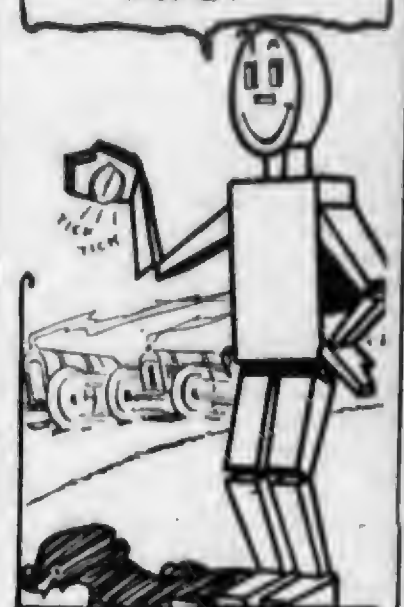

The Golden Text was from I Corinthians 15: 22: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind. . . . That ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness" (Eph. 4:17, 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us accept Science, relinquish all theories based on sense-testimony, give up imperfect models and illusive ideals; and, so let us have one God, one Mind, and that one perfect, producing His own models of excellence" (p. 249).

Every Time a Fence Breaks You Lose Money

POSSIBLY it's only part of the crop, perhaps the stock that breaks through dies from goring or is maimed or killed. Either way you lose enough to pay for many rods of sound, tight fencing. Be prepared for such emergencies. Keep a few RED TOP posts handy on the farm. Strengthen at once the weak spots that develop in your fence lines. Replace rotting wood posts with RED TOPS. This makes the fence stronger and saves losses.

RED TOPS can be driven easily, through the hardest soil. That makes it easy to repair or build fence at any season with RED TOPS. And RED TOPS are made of tough, durable, long-lived steel that gets the most years of usefulness from any fence. Stock and hog-tight fences are the key to profitable farming.

STATE CAPITOL ITEMS

Illinois Leads In the Reduction of Accidents

The year 1927 marked an improvement in highway safety records for ten states of the union, with the greatest numerical reduction in motor fatalities occurring in Illinois.

In Illinois the number of fatalities in motor traffic accidents dropped from 1,776 in 1926, to 1,647 in 1927, a decrease of 7 per cent, as shown by a street traffic bulletin received at A. A. A. headquarters from the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Compilation of figures on the coal production in Illinois during the month of March show that Franklin county's sixteen mines, in operation during that month, hoisted almost one-third of the entire state output. The state production is given at 7,147,830 tons, and of this amount Franklin county produced 1,951,277 tons.

Gwyn Garnett, member of the Illinois Bar association for sixty-two years, and former superior court judge died recently at his home in Chicago at the age of 83 years.

Attorney General Carlstrom has given an opinion in which he holds that judges and clerks of election who served at the primary on April 10, are entitled to only one day's pay, but those who serve at the general election in November will receive pay for two days.

Announcement has been made that fifty-two towns in Illinois have been selected as locations for units of a nation-wide chain of garages now being established throughout the United States.

These cities were selected, it was stated, after a survey of highways and the average flow of inter-city and inter-state automobile traffic throughout the state.

According to an estimate made by 562 automobile associations, 1928 is expected to set record figures for motoring, it being estimated that 49,000,000 persons will be out on the highways for business and pleasure in 19,000,000 cars.

Construction of an aerial beacon, larger than any other in the world, and bearing neon and rotating beacons which will be visible 100 miles on clear nights, has been started in Chicago.

The tower, with two rotating searchlights of 8,000,000 candle power each as a guide for night flyers is being erected by the Greenbaum Sons Investment Company.

The following contracts have been awarded by the state division of highways:

- Route 173, section 130B, Boone county, bridge; to G. C. Fairclough, Champaign, $23,999.70.
- Route 142, section 124C, Saline county, bridge; to A. C. Woods, Rockford, $5,820.47.
- Route 49, section 116, Edgar county, bridge; to R. McCallman, Danville, $25,250.60.
- Route 80, section 126B, Knox county, bridge; to C. D. Stratton, Little York, $12,476.20.
- Route 173, section 130, Boone county, pavement; to Lampson Construction Company, Oskosh, Wisconsin, $163,026.01.

Mrs. H. W. White of Carthage has been chosen by acclamation and without contest as president of the Illinois Council of the Parent-Teacher association, or as it will be known hereafter, the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. Five hundred and nineteen delegates attended the meeting held recently at Streator.

THIRD OF GAS USERS DO NOT PAY WAY

Thirty-eight per cent of all customers of all the gas companies of the United States do not pay enough for the service they use to reimburse the companies for the cost of rendering the service, according to a decision of the United States District Court for the Western District of New York.

The decision further states that testimony shows that the next 33 per cent of all customers of all gas companies do not pay enough for service to reimburse the companies and yield them a fair return upon their investment.

The remaining 29 per cent of all gas consumers throughout the United States, says the Court, pay enough to reimburse the company fully for the service rendered, plus a fair return upon that part of the company's capital necessarily invested for the benefit of this class of customers. This group, says the Court, also usually pays in addition some part of the deficit created by the other two classes, but only in some instances enough to make up the entire deficit, plus a fair return to the gas company upon its entire necessary invested capital.

Mongrel Dog Tries to Save Drowning Child

East Marion, L. I.—A mongrel dog did his best to save the life of his little playmate, Frankie Smith, five-year-old son of Polish farmers, near here, but the child, who fell through an ice hole in the ice recently, was drowned before help could reach him.

The little boy and his dog were playing on the frozen inlet leading to the Long Island sound near his home. In romping around the child did not notice a hole that had been cut in the ice for eel spearing. When Frankie fell through the dog started to bark furiously.

The boy's mother, attracted by the barking, looked out on the ice and, not seeing her child, began to scream. A number of men who were eeling about a quarter of a mile away, ran to the woman, thinking something was wrong at the house. In excited English she managed to let them know her boy was missing. The eelers went back to the ice and found the little dog struggling to hold the child's clothes in his mouth.

Frankie was pulled out of the freezing water, but by the time Doctor Heuth and Doctor Luper arrived from Greenport, eight miles away, the boy was dead.

Finds Most Men Are Irked by Given Names

Berkeley, Calif.—Three men in four have a pet "grouch on" because of their given names, declares Prof. George H. Steward, Jr., of the University of California faculty. He has completed a survey of thousands of Christian names to determine the popularity trend from 1870 to the present time and coupled with it a study of names.

"There are few men who don't wish they had a different first name," Professor Steward says.

The majority of men, however, he says, are satisfied if given the more common names and William and John are as much in use now as 40 years ago.

Since 1890, "Marry," for some unlearned reason, has become less popular than "Elizabeth," which now ranks first. Next to Elizabeth and Mary, in order, are Helen, Dorothy, Marie, Katherine, Louise, Ruth, Eleanor and Evelyn.

WEIRD RITUAL MARKS PURIFICATION RITES

Conversion of Yankee Girl Second of Its Kind.

Bombay.—Considerable interest has been aroused in the proposed "purification" of the American girl, Miss Miller, in preparation for her projected marriage to the ex-maharaja of Indore, since the ordeal is said to be sufficiently strenuous to prove an actual hardship to many.

Five years ago there was no recognized "purification" or conversion to Hinduism. However, owing to the Moplah riots in Malabar of 1921-22, in which thousands of Hindus were forcibly converted to Islam, the pride of the orthodox Hindu priests gave way to the exigencies of the times and, with the consent of the high priests throughout India, a newly recognized ceremony was settled upon and a definite ritual drawn up.

It is called the ceremonial of sacrifice for the errant, or Vratya-Homa-Yidhi, as explained in the old Vedic scriptures. If Miss Miller is converted, it will be the second case of this kind, the precedent having been established when Doctor Ketkar, Ph. D., of Poona, married an American girl a few years ago and later established what is commonly known as Neo-Hinduism.

In order to purify the vibrations of an impure nature due to the eating of beef and other sins of like description Miss Miller will have to live on a frugal diet for three days previous to the actual ceremony. On the day of the ceremony she will submit to the first purification bath, when the holy water of the Ganges and Jamuna are poured upon her head, accompanied by the chanting of Vedic hymns and prayers.

She will next be given the Pancha-Gavya, or the mixture of the products from the cow—milk, curds, clarified butter, honey, and sugar—the whole concoction being sprinkled over with the stems of the sacred kusha grass.

The Sacred Fire.

The neophyte is next taken to the nearby sacred fire, which has been specially lighted by the friction of two pieces of sacred wood. Here, seated on a wooden seat and dressed in pure silk, she will prepare small balls of rice cooked in cow's milk, place them in a spoonful of clarified butter formerly lived here and have many friends among the older people.

Mrs. Charles Jarvis, who has been with her daughter in Chicago since New Year's, has returned to her old home at the hotel.

Mrs. Daley was out from Chicago last week during vacation to make her cottage in the West View addition ready for the summer.

and give the offering to the sacred fire.

After this the candidate for purification approaches another wooden bench on which rows of betel nuts are arranged on cloth mixed with red powder, representing the ancient Aryan sages. Here she will take the obligation of following the good path in the manner ordained by them. She will also be given a Hindu name, which she will write out with a diamond ring in the rice grain spread out on a golden plate. The priest performing the ritual next places the red kumkuma mark on her forehead, thus finally admitting her to the holy ranks of Indian womanhood.

The Hindu marriage ceremony begins with the invocation to the elephant headed god Ganesha, who blesses all auspicious ceremonies and events. The most important part of the ritual is sapta pad, or walking around the fire in seven steps, the husband leading his wife, registering the sacred vow, after having invoked the seven sacred sages, symbolized by the seven stars of the Great Polar Bear.

The Wedding Ceremony.

Before his marriage can become legally binding the high caste Hindu must solemnly promise: "I will not transgress in religion, in prosperity, and in passion." The bride and the bridegroom stand facing each other, with a veil between them, while priests chant Sanskrit verses invoking the blessings of all the world on this union and throwing saffron colored rice upon the bowed head of each.

Both the bride and bridegroom are dressed in silk and both wear the mundavil, or chainlets of pearls, on their foreheads. When the veil is raised at the end of the chanting the newly wedded couple garland each other, while the husband ties round the neck of his bride the sacred mangalsutra, a necklace of black beads with a golden leaf in the middle.

However rich the married couple may be, this necklace is of the simplest character, and can be bought for a couple of shillings in the market place. With this final gesture the couple are now declared man and wife in the eyes of God and the law. They then join the wedding guests to take part in the reception and the subsequent days of feasting, which are followed with a grand procession, fireworks, and similar festivities.

Our grand business undoubtedly is, not to see what lies dimly at distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand.—Carlyle.

Must Use Separate Ballots For Tax Measures

Separate ballots must be used when tax propositions are submitted at elections, otherwise the levying of the proposed tax, even if it is approved by the voters is illegal, according to an opinion given by Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom.

By violating this rule, Bellflower township, McLean county, cannot enforce its special oil tax. Ballots on which the issue was printed also contained names of two candidates.

BURLINGTON—The meat market proprietors in Union Grove, Watertown, Burlington, Kansasville, Lake Geneva, Elkhorn, Delavan, East Troy and Darien held a meeting at Well-er's hall Thursday evening and officers elected. The next meeting will be held at Lake Geneva for the purpose of choosing a name for the organization which has just recently been organized.

Buy with Confidence!

For Economical Transportation

During the last ninety days more new Chevrolet cars were delivered in this community than in any similar period in Chevrolet history—and most of these new car sales involved the trade-in of the purchaser's previous car. As a result, we have at this time a wide selection of used cars that have been thoroughly reconditioned—and which may be identified by the red "O. K. that counts" tag. Come in and make your selection while our used car stocks are complete.

Churches

Methodist Church Notes

Mother's Day is Sunday. Every mother's son and daughter will want to attend church somewhere on that day. At the Methodist church special services have been planned for both morning and evening.

At the morning service the chorus choir will sing one of the great church anthems honoring motherhood. Mrs. Nellie Head Turnow will sing "Mother O Mine." The sermon will deal with the greatest of all earthly privileges, "Mother." To worship Sunday, Mother's Day, is to honor God and pay the highest tribute to your mother. Plan to attend.

The evening service will commemorate Mother's Day in a very marked way also. Several solos are on the program. The sermon theme at this service will center around the great women of the Bible.

Tuesday the 11-Girls class under the direction of Mrs. L. R. Watson will hold a Mother-Daughter banquet to which all mothers and daughters will be welcome, but reservations must be made not later than Sunday night. A phone to Mrs. Watson will do.

At the official board meeting Monday night, the board went on record as expressing their appreciation to all who have helped so generously in the decorating of the church. Furt-hing of the outside of the church. Also the sending of the pastor to the General Conference now in session, at Kansas City. A recognition service for the high school pupils was planned for the evening of June 3rd. The church is proud of our high school and the fine showing the students have made in the various events they have participated in.

Miss Georgia Van Patten, who has been a student at the American Academy of Art, Kimball Hall, Chicago, for the past three years, spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Van Patten who have just recently returned from their winter home at Leesburg, Fla.

Always . .
a square USED CAR deal from the Buick
Dealer

The Buick dealer is in business to stay. His future reputation depends upon his treating used car buyers fairly.

The man who buys a good used car—honestly represented—at a fair price—receives splendid value in transportation.

In his enthusiasm for the car
he has bought, and the value he has received, it is only natural for him to look upon the dealer as his friend.

The Buick dealer has many such friends because he represents the true condition of the used cars he offers for sale—because he gives every used car customer a square deal.
